The George Washington University
Department of Economics
Macro-International Seminar
Wednesdays, 2:30-4:00pm
Monroe Hall, Kendrick Conference Room

January 16: Etienne Gagnon, Federal Reserve Board
“Price Setting during Low and High Inflation: Evidence from Mexico”

January 23: Chao Wei, George Washington University
“On the Importance of Progressivity in Dividend Taxation”

February 6: Enrica Detragiache, International Monetary Fund

February 13: Jinhui Bai, Georgetown University
“On the ‘Faustian Dynamics’ of Policy and Political Power”

February 20: Anton Korinek, University of Maryland

February 27: Martin Bodenstein, Federal Reserve Board

March 5: Roberto Samaniego, George Washington University
“Technology and Finance Dependence”
Georgetown University Spring Break (Buenos Aires)

March 12: Carlos Végh, University of Maryland

March 19: GWU Spring Break

March 26:

April 2: Vivian Yue, New York University

April 9: Stephen Brown, Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas

April 16: Paolo Pesenti, Federal Reserve Bank of New York

April 23:

April 30: Roberto Chang, Rutgers University